

Production Supervisor Job Description

- Responsible for supervising factory safety, environmental controls, and production control.
- Provide training to production workers.
- Ensure production scheduled is executed and raw material and finished products produced are accounted for and meeting quality parameters.
- Ensure product inventory is updated timely based on daily production.
- Involved in both hiring and performance review process.
- Bachelor's degree in Engineering, Chemistry, Food Science, Nutrition, or any related field and/or training.
- 2 years in Production or other related experience is must. Experience in nutrition supplement, food industry production is desirable.